RESPONSE TO OFFICE ACTION

Sir:

Responsive to final Office Action mailed on March 3, 2003, the time for response having been extended by a petition filed concurrently herewith, applicants amend the specification to correct various typing errors, amend the claims as suggested by the Examiner, and submit the following amendments and remarks to be entered into the above patent application. Applicants respectfully request to pass this application to allowance.

IN THE SPECIFICATION:

Please amend the following paragraphs to correct the typing errors:

Page 2, paragraph starting with line 10:

--The present invention provides an improved ballistic armor panel for attaching to an object, the panel comprising a carrying board made of a hard material and formed with a plurality of adjoining through-going apertures, each aperture receiving a body made of a hard material ~~material~~ and having a longitudinal axis coaxial with an axis of the respective aperture. Typically, the bodies are made of a ceramic material, such as, for example, alumina ~~alumma~~ silicone carbide, boron carbide, etc.

The bodies may be made of a low density material although this is not a requirement. --
